Education seat transferred to Dysart

Haliburton County Council has redistributed the seats of the local board of education, increasing the number of trustees representing the municipality of Dysart et al while eliminating one member from the Township of Stanhope.

The realignment of representation on the board was made at the regular meeting of County Council on Wednesday, July 17, following a request by the municipality of Sherborne et al for an additional board member.

Council was asked to vote on a resolution moved by Dysart et al reeve, Murray Fearrey, that would increase the number of trustees serving his municipality from four to five, while eliminating one trustee from the Township of Stanhope. Under this proposal, Sherborne et al would not gain a trustee as requested.

In response to the resolution, Stanhope reeve, Harry Davis, presented an alternate proposal for council's consideration.

Reading a prepared statement Davis outlined the criteria which determines the number of trustees each municipality is allotted.

Representation is based on the ratio of equalized residential and farm assessment for public school purposes of each municipality to the total county equalized assessment. (These assessments are determined by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing).

Under the Education Act, County Council has the authority to "apportion membership on the board in any manner agreed upon" provided each municipality's share of the board membership is within 5% of the municipality's share of the county assessment.

Reeve Davis proposed a formula which would see one separate and one public school trustee representing the combined townships of Cardiff, Bicroft and Monmouth and five trustees representing Dysart. Under this formula Stanhope would retain two trustees. (Currently Monmouth has one trustee on the board and Bicroft and Cardiff combined are represented by a separate school trustee and one public school trustee. Under provincial guidelines adjoining municipalities can be combined for purposes of representation.)

In concluding his presentation Davis stated, "This proposal results in a very small membership representation loss for Cardiff, Bicroft and Monmouth, and would appear to be fairer than any one municipality having one full membership loss or a 1/2 membership loss which would result if Glamorgan and Snowdon (10.80%) were combined in lieu of Monmouth, Cardiff and Bicroft being combined as recommended in this proposal."

Following his presentation, Reeve Davis suggested that the two proposals be forwarded to committee for further study. In response to the resolution and alternate proposal, Anson, Hindon and Minden Acting Reeve, Ed Pergolas told Council that he was not prepared to vote until further consideration was given. He pointed out that under both proposals, Dysart et al will be represented by five trustees while being responsible for 30.6% of the municipality's share of the board of education budget whereas the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden pays 19.8% of the municipal levy and has only two members on the board.

In response, Reeve Murray Fearrey pointed out that the guidelines determining board representation are not based on the board of education sharing ratio. Noting that he had not had adequate time to consider the redistribution of board seats, Cardiff Deputy Reeve Ross Duncan said he was not prepared to vote on the matter either. "I don't like surprises," he said, adding, "all these little changes," add up to one big change and that "the northern townships were becoming unhappy with the county government."

Murray Fearrey requested an immediate vote on the resolution rather than putting the matter before a committee. He pointed out that the decision would have to be presented to the province by September, in advance of the next regular meeting of Council.

He reminded council members, "I've before I have addressed County Council on this matter. Dysart did not take another member because it would have stripped one smaller township of a member. This time," he said, "Council has instructed me to proceed," in gaining an additional member, noting that Dysart et al qualified for five trustees. "The figures are there," he said.

Fearrey argued that it was important to provide local autonomy to Monmouth and Cardiff by providing those townships with their own representatives on the board. "It is not a case of pitting one municipality against another," he said. "It is just going by the formula."

Fearrey noted several times during the debate that Dysart et al Council will,

Rabies threat concerns councillors

Members of county council are concerned about the recent outbreak of rabies in the county and the apparent lack of public concern.

The issue was raised by Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman, the county representative on the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit.

Tallman informed council that although there has been an increase in rabies in the region, public response to rabies clinics earlier this year was disappointing.

He said that he has an added concern that pets, owned by vacationers visiting the county might come in contact with rabid animals and later spread the disease upon returning to the city.

During a discussion of the problem, several council members noted recent increases in rabies in their municipalities and suggestions were made that each municipality be responsible for advertising rabies clinics and working in conjunction with the Ministry of Natural Resources to increase public awareness and undertake programs to prevent the spread of the disease.

In a telephone conversation on Wednesday, Dr. Robert Boneshyn of the Department of Agriculture, Health and Animals branch, in Peterborough, confirmed that there has been an epidemic in this region. "There has been a lot of activity within a five mile radius of the Stanhope Airport Road, that seems to be the hotspot in Haliburton County right now," he said. Doctor Boneshyn explained that he based his comments on the number of cases that have been confirmed by the Health of Animals laboratory.

According to Dr. Boneshyn there were two diagnosed and one suspected case of rabies in the Dorset area in January.

In April a rabid fox was killed in the Eagle Lake area.

In May there were four confirmed cases; three in the West Guilford area and one in the region north of Carnarvon.

In June the reported cases dropped to two. Rabid foxes were found near Eagle Lake and in Stanhope Township.

Doctor Boneshyn said that although there have been no confirmed cases of rabies in the county this month, "The month is not over yet." While the actual number of cases may not appear high, Boneshyn noted these are only diagnosed cases. "If there are three to four cases a month in Haliburton County, this probably represents a pretty serious epidemic, because you are looking at a relatively unpopulated area. There are vast unpopulated areas in Haliburton. Obviously the only time you are going to see rabies is when it comes into built up or populated areas."

"If we have a comparable outbreak in Victoria County, we will see more cases because there are more people, more farms and more built up areas," he said.

There was an increase in rabies in both Victoria and Peterborough counties during the first half of 1985.

Dr. Boneshyn reported an average of eight diagnosed cases per month in each county between January and June but noted the incidence of rabies has declined to three cases per month; a figure he described as being average for the region.

Residents of Toronto and region are probably quite aware of rabies he said, noting "There is a high potential for rabies in those areas because of the many river valleys, that run through Toronto creating bushland within populated areas."

"Last year York region was one of the worst areas in the province," he said, adding, "There has also been a lot of cases in the West Hill region."

Based on the cases reported by Dr. Boneshyn, it appears the outbreak of rabies was confined to Stanhope and Guilford townships in May and June but, as he explained, rabies will spread to other areas. "An animal that has rabies will only wander so far. It is likely to bite an animal on the perimeter of its own area. The animal that was bitten will come down with rabies then spread it on to the perimeter of its own area and this continues from place to place."

While it is possible to predict the path outbreaks of rabies will take in many regions of southern Ontario,

CAT Scan fund reaches its goal

The CAT Scan Goal of $1,800,000 has been surpassed. The largest total of cash and pledges now exceeds $1,850,000. This amount has been reached through the efforts of hundreds of fund raisers and thousands of participants.

The Counties of North Hastings, Haliburton, Northumberland, Peterborough and Victoria in just 459 days have raised an average of over $4,000 per day to surpass the original goal.

Communities banded together to raise significant amounts of money for this most worthwhile cause. To many of them this was a continuation of their involvement for others on many other occasions.

CAT Scan buttons, T-Shirts, In Memoriams, Bake Sales, Lemonade Stands, Walk-a-thons, Dance-a-thons, Car Washes, to name just a few categories of the 248 special events in Peterborough alone. Club organizations, groups and individuals found some very ingenious ways to raise money.

The industrial group in all of the counties met the appeal, both as companies and employees. No campaign of this magnitude has ever been successful without the full support of this segment of the community.

The volunteers who devoted their many hours to processing and acting as couriers saved the fund thousands of dollars by a minimum of staff being employed.

The media support has been outstanding. Many times free commercials or advertisements were provided to stimulate givings, articles of interest and donations were continually being printed and aired.

No government funds were provided. Federal and provincial governments do not provide for the purchase of this equipment. County and municipal councils were fully informed of the campaign, but also advised that no request for public funds would be made to them.

Never before has the community been asked for such a large sum to provide life saving equipment for the area's nine hospitals.

The executive committees and division chairmen worked tirelessly throughout the campaign to provide the leadership and direction when necessary. They exemplified the campaign participation. Each brought their own special expertise which was evident in the results produced.

When Angeline Robbins, Bancroft cuts the ribbon for "Scan Purr-r" the plaque should read "This C.A.T. Scanner was provided by all the people of Haliburton, North Hastings, Northumberland, Peterborough and Victoria Counties".

The following facts are examples of the overall effort and the immense involvement that has made this campaign truly a "People Success". With the finalization of all regional areas now being completed, we trust the following information will be of interest to you and the public:

1. Days of involvement:

From April 28, 1984 until July 18, 1985 - 459 days. Daily average is slightly over $4,000.

2. Receipts: When all donations have been received, we estimate over 30,000 donors participating in the campaign.

3. Special events: Throughout the campaign centres in the region, numerous special events have occurred. In the Peterborough area alone, at least 248 special events (involving literally hundreds of volunteers) have taken place.

4. CAT Scan A/V Show and Presentation: Several hundred presentations have taken place throughout the entire region with 150 shows alone presented in the Peterborough area.

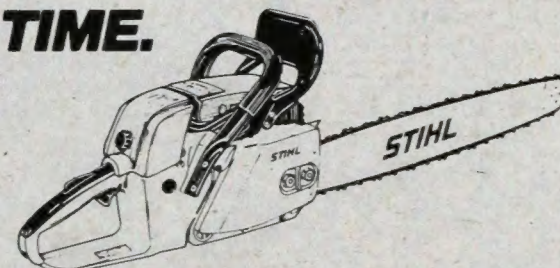

5. Volunteers: Throughout the CAT Scan region we estimate that thousands of volunteers have assisted in making this endeavour an "Outstanding accomplishment!" We certainly appreciate and realize the countless hours and total support and dedication that these people have given to the campaign.

We owe a tremendous amount of appreciation to the county chairmen and their committees for an "Outstanding campaign!" Judge George Inrig/Bob "consider the possibility of court action," if the request for an additional trustee is turned down by County Council. Bicroft Reeve Bill Howe supported the resolution, arguing that Dysart, "was exercising its rights" and there was no real decision to be made. "We must follow the formula," he said.

Harry Davis responded, "Stanhope is closer to deserving two memberships than Dysart is to five."

Murray Fearrey countered the assertion by noting that Dysart is closer "in terms of percentages. Mind you, it is very close."

(Note. Each board of education trustee represents 7.14% of the total membership. Two members represent 14.28%. Stanhope's equalized public school assessment divided by the total county equalized assessment is 11.47%. Therefore Stanhope is within 2.81%. The five trustees elected by Dysart et al represent 35.70% of the board while the municipality's share of the total assessment for public school purposes is 33.46%, putting Dysart within 2.24 percentage points).

Snowdon Reeve, Bob Vick, said he supported the formula which would see Stanhope Township lose one trustee because he did not want to see Monmouth lose a member by being combined with two other townships.

Monmouth Reeve Keith

Tallman added his support to the resolution. "I don't want to see the smaller townships lose representation," he commented.

Monmouth Deputy Reeve Harry Clark called for, "harmony ... not just the use of numbers." He noted, however, "a community is built around a school," and added, "We will fight the loss of a trustee."

Warden Dalton MacDonald pointed out that under the formula proposed in the resolution all townships have a representative on the board.

The resolution passed without the support of the representatives of Stanhope Township, Cardiff Township or the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

The changes in the distribution of seats will be in effect when elections are held on November 12.

Footnote

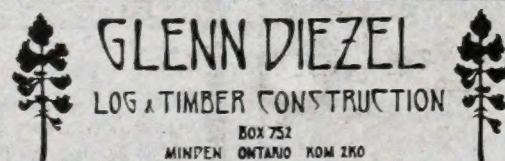

The number of members to be elected by public school electors from each municipality is obtained by multiplying the number of members to be elected (14) by the ratio of equalized residential and farm assessment for public school purposes to equalized residential and farm assessment of all rateable property in the county or school division. The percentages calculated for each municipality and the number of trustees is as follows:

- Dysart et al. Five trustees. 33.46%.

- Anson, Hindon and Minden. Two trustees. 16.44%.

- Townships having one trustee:

Bicroft and Cardiff combined 6.78%. Glamorgan - 6.54%. Lutterworth - 8.48%. Monmouth - 3.95%. Sherborne - 8.61%. Snowdon - 4.26%. Stanhope - 11.47%.

Show provides an artistic journey

- by Michael Shirley -

The current exhibition of art by Robert Revesz at the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery is a journey through the life and imagination of a very talented young painter.

Beginning with a pastel drawing of a Viking ship created by Robert when he was a child, the sketches and paintings take the visitor on a voyage through many changes in style, technique, skill and interpretive ability that documents the creative growth of the painter.

It is a journey which forms a portrait of a young man as an artist.

Brief notes written by the artist which accompany each painting, act as a narration in a travelogue. They serve to identify the subjects, explain the evolution of the work and underline the artist's philosophy, (often humorous) and attitudes toward his environment.

There are sketches and oil paintings that reveal the darker side of his imagination and acrylics that celebrate ordinary life.

There are works which appeal to children and others that have an ageless quality.

It may also be noticed that the identity of the painter gradually changes. Many of the earlier paintings are signed GRUB, a nickname that many people still use. (The name refers to an old jalopy once owned by Robert.)

Beginning in the early 1980's Robert signed his works with both names then discarded the nickname altogether, an indication of his maturity and the fact that he was taking his art much more seriously.

It should be noted

Rabies

"It is difficult to say what will happen in Haliburton," he commented.

"The spread doesn't seem to be as typical in Haliburton County as compared to other areas. It probably has to do with the hills and general lay of the land," he said, adding, "The terrain is different. There are more lakes and more rock faces that can affect the way it will spread. It may inhibit the spread or it may direct it in a certain direction, but the potential for the spread of rabies is certainly there."

The decrease in diagnosed cases in the past six weeks in Haliburton County may indicate the epidemic has ended but Dr. Boneshyn advises caution. "The only way you can protect yourself is to make sure you don't start fooling around with wild animals and make sure your pets are vaccinated."

however that Grub Graphics publishes his prints. One should never be too serious!

At the opening Saturday afternoon Robert explained that although he has been painting for many years, "I didn't begin to call myself an artist until last June when I began selling paintings and releasing prints. I am also beginning to accept commissions for portraits."

He has been able to grow as an artist, he said. "Because I never had anyone say 'no' to me. I have never had anyone tell me I was doing something wrong or I couldn't do that."

He did admit, having failed art classes while a high school student and although he was accepted by the Ontario College of Art, he did not attend, choosing instead to teach himself.

He credits part of his creative skill to an innate sense of colour. "I never had a problem with colour. Yellow is yellow. That is all there is to it; no matter what techniques or medium you use."

He has turned away from his fascination with wizards and monsters that are revealed in some of his earlier works to a photorealistic style that documents his life and that of his friends.

Rob Revesz salutes Jack Stevenson, the subject of one of his favourite paintings. The young artist was on hand for the opening of his show at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery which continues until August 17.

His best and most recent works, begin with a sketch outlining an overall concept. Then, after taking a series of photographs, he rearranged the landscapes and portraits to form a composite work which has a basis in reality but which is, in fact, a product of his imagination. He prefers to use photographs, noting, "I can't paint

The unseen army

For the Haliburton Highlands, this is the busiest time of the year. Area resorts are filled to capacity, cottage populations swell to their annual maximum and, during the next few weeks, we are likely to witness a major influx of day visitors and individuals coming to the area for a particular attraction or event.

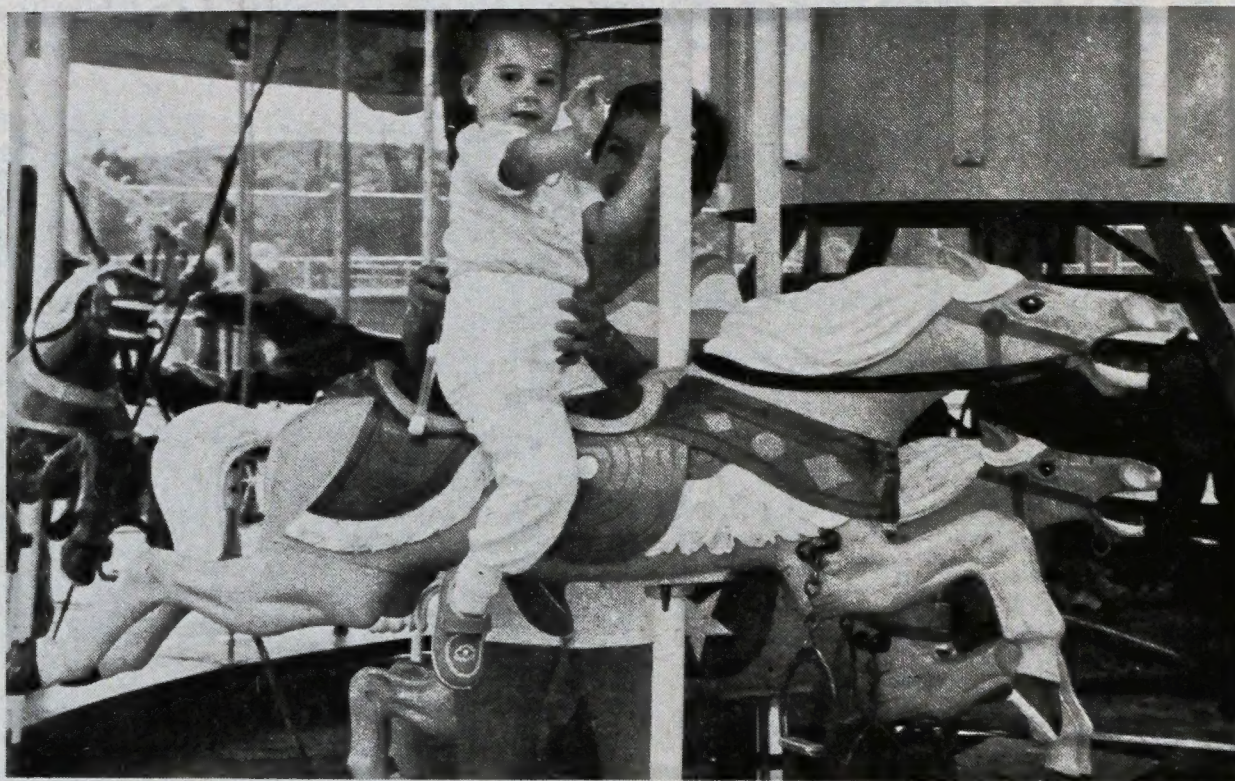

It is not just the increase in the population which makes our county come alive as July melts into August. One need only survey the list of coming events in the This Week in the Highlands supplement accompanying this newspaper to appreciate the numerous and varied activities taking place in the next few weeks.

The events range from carnivals, to specialty events, races and competitions. There are activities to please the spectators and activities which invite, and indeed, encourage everyone's participation. As well as the public events crowding the calendar, there are numerous other items scheduled for members of particular groups and associations.

While those attending these activities get wrapped up in the fun of the occasion, it is easy to forget that these events just don't happen. Even a brief glimpse behind the scenes reveals an army of volunteers who make sure the special event comes off as smoothly as possible. A more detailed investigation would uncover months of meetings, planning, endless phone calls and organization, all geared to guarantee that those attending enjoy themselves.

And so, as the community begins what seems to be a frenzied round of special events, we tip our hats to the many unsung volunteers who indeed do make it happen. Without them our community would be certainly a less interesting and entertaining place to live.

Here's to the volunteers.

Editor:

I would like to make comment on two articles which appeared in your paper of July 17. As a past, long time seasonal resident on Halls Lake, I have witnessed the deterioration of the lake water quality caused by poor development planning. The impact of another 100 trailer sites (back lots) on an already overpopulated lake, will impede everyone's enjoyment. Excessive development is not desirable anywhere.

Phil Graham's simplistic approach to the Gull River flooding problem needs to be expanded greatly. His notion of two factions is disturbing and will create hard feelings between lake and town's people. What I feel is needed is a regular visual check, not only of Gull River through Minden, but of all waterways leading to Minden to maintain the most constant water level possible.

A 10% deduction in water reserved in the upper lakes could drastically effect the recreational value and safe operation of water craft. The answer for all is co-operation between the Trent Severn Waterway controlled by Parks Canada and Orillia Water, Light and Power Commission, as well as the understanding of water level concerns of Gull River residents and reservoir lake residents north of Minden.

"Cottagers" don't want high water at the expense of flooding others. With co-operative visual control the demands of all could be met. Computers alone cannot and should not determine water levels for people. More concern must be given to property owners along the whole reservoir system and not just to the owners of pleasure craft using the Trent Severn Waterway.

Editor:

Can you please ask Dr. Offen to explain his comments, "some people of a different race", had approached him but he had not sold them the property. "I thought of you people," he said.

Is this remark taken out of context, have I misread it? As it stands it appears to be a blatant example of bigotry and I find this intolerable.

Val Lougheed, Minden.

Editor's note: The following is an open letter to the Director of Education for the Haliburton County Board of Education, Stuart Baker.

Dear Mr. Baker:

The Horseshoe Lake Property Owners' Association, at its annual meeting in Minden on July 6th, 1985, passed a motion expressing grave concern at the large increase in education taxes for the current year, especially in view of the much smaller increase in teachers' salaries and the far more modest increase in municipal rates.

The Association would like to have some indication as to why the drastic increase took place and what the trustees intend to do to see that expenditures are curbed to approximate, if not become less than, the current rate of inflation.

Property owners, especially those who receive no benefit from the educational system, are more than disturbed at the continuing high mill rate, if the feeling of those present at the meeting is at all representative of the membership at large.

Please convey our extreme displeasure to the board and forward at your earliest convenience any information which might possibly be considered a justification for the board's action.

V. K. Gilbert, President.

It's an eerie world. You're on your belly in a sea of 15' saplings. You can't move without twisting and winding, for the grid of trunks placed one every foot or two. There are no landmarks. Fogged glasses blur your vision; your ears hear only the same, muffled thuds you feel through the ground. Uncontrolled, your body temperature skyrockets in sunshine, and plummets near freezing on cold nights. One huge lung supplies your oxygen. No arms. High o'erhead, soaring hawks watch for you. And you, in turn, search out prey; some can bound 15' at a time. You eat perhaps once or twice a week. You've entered the world of the snake.

Many people find snakes repulsive. For some, it's the product of role-modelled fear while they were very young. For others, it's the product of scares - being chased with one, or having it put in a boot. For many, the fear lasts a lifetime. But, to those who'll look beyond the myths and fears, you'll find one of our most intriguingly adapted animals.

If you sat down to "design" an animal that could move rapidly through dense grass or water, climb shrubbery, and pass through animal burrows or under logs in search of prey, you might very well produce the snake. The tremendously elongated body provides a superb means of movement. Winding from side to side "sets up" waves, through which the snake's body moves. Pushing from side to side - like iceskating - translates into forward motion. And, as skating shows, it can provide real speed if you don't have

Kinmount abuzz with big fish story

The old swimming hole in Kinmount is much quieter these days.

The Burnt River near the bridge in Kinmount has been a popular spot with youngsters for generations, but for the past few weeks, no one has been going near the water except for the fishermen who are after "the big muskie."

The fish they are trying to catch is reported to be 4-5 feet long and weighing anywhere from 40 to 60 pounds, depending to whom you are speaking.

One thing is certain. Sixteen year old Gerald Crego was swimming in the river one evening and was pulled under the surface of the water by something very big and very strong.

As Gerald describes it, "I dove under the bridge and was swimming toward the (inner) tube when something bit my foot and pulled me under... At first I felt a sharp pain in my foot. It took me under a little ways then finally let go. I came up and told everybody to get out of the water then swam to shore."

When asked if he had been scared, he replied, "Not really. I was just a bit shocked. That was about it."

Gerald said that although he did not see the fish, he has no doubt it was a big muskie. The teeth marks on the top and bottom of his foot provide evidence that something indeed did grab hold of him while he was in the water.

Gerald required a few stitches in his foot to repair the damage and although he has not been swimming in the river since the incident, he has been fishing for the elusive monster.

Elusive muskie keeps villagers talking

Another Kinmount resident who is after the lunker, is Bill Demuth who operates the local Culligan dealership. He denies reports that he was bitten by the fish but said he was at the swimming hole when Gerald was bitten.

"I was standing on the riverbank. I heard a commotion and when I looked over I saw the boy get pulled under the water," he said, adding, "When he came back up he yelled at the kids to get to the dock then swam in himself. He was a bit of a hero I would say, the way he handled the situation."

Bill has no doubt that there is a big muskie lurking in the depths of the river. "I have heard old timers say that people would not believe the size of the muskies in the Burnt River."

Another Kinmount resident and dedicated angler who is not surprised by the incident is John Dettman. "I fish the river all the time. I know there are big muskies in there. I saw one a few weeks ago that I would say was about 50 inches. It came up at the lure right beside the boat; saw the boat and turned back down." He noted that a muskie measuring 49 inches long and weighing 26 pounds was caught in the river two years ago and, "Last Tuesday someone caught a muskie measuring 45 inches up river."

Muskies rarely attack people he said, but noted a recent incident near Peterborough when someone was bitten.

By way of explanation John said, "The reason they use surface lures for bass is that just before dark and just before daybreak, they can't see. They hear a noise and come up and hit something on the surface. I would think almost think the same thing goes for muskies."

"Considering the time of evening he was bitten, the boy could have jumped in the water and the fish just lunged at the sudden movement."

Since the incident there have been few swimmers in the river near the bridge. "It used to be a popular swimming spot," he said. "It isn't anymore, but there sure are a lot of guys fishing there."

Transportation rates revised

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

On July 15 Transport Minister Don Mazankowski released a position paper outlining sweeping revisions to Canada's transportation policy. Key thrusts include more competition, reduced economic regulation and a greater reliance on market forces. They are designed to provide more competitive prices and a wider range of services.

Benoit Bouchard, Minister of State for Transport said the preview of the proposed legislation followed several months of industry and public consultation and further input is invited before the introduction of legislation in late Fall.

Amendments to the Aeronautics Act passed by Parliament in June will tighten safety rules for airworthiness and for air navigation services. Security at Canadian airports has been substantially increased and initiatives are being taken in the marine and ground modes as well.

The new air policy is aimed at gaining improved service and increasing opportunities for all carriers. It should prompt the growth of local, regional and commuter services. A new airline will be able to start up services and an existing one will be able to launch new routes by demonstrating that it is in possession of a valid operating certificate along with evidence that it carries sufficient liability insurance. A review process will be maintained over fare increases with the Regulatory Agency having the power to overturn or reduce excessive increases.

The government has decided to restructure the Canadian Transport Commission and establish an independent national transportation authority that will be smaller, more accessible and more responsive.

The government will also pursue reduction of regulations on international routes through bilateral negotiations, such as those ongoing with the United States. The proposals will harmonize U.S. - Canada railway legislation by permitting Canadian railways to enter into confidential contracts with shippers on domestic, overseas and transborder traffic. This will eliminate a disadvantage currently facing Canadian shippers and railways.

Other important initiatives include streamlined appeal and arbitration measures to allow speedy and equitable resolution of disputes. The legislative and regulatory reform proposals come on the eve of the 100th anniversary of the completion of the Canadian Pacific Transcontinental Railway.

"clutter" - like arms, legs or ears - to catch on things. Scales provide not only armour against skin damage, but also "pushing plates" - and camouflage.

When searching out prey, snakes move slowly, using another form of locomotion. Scutes - giant scales which run right across the belly - are each attached to a pair of ribs by special muscles. Like oars on an ancient Viking ship, the snake literally rows its way along, pulling the 'open' back edge forward until it hooks onto the earth, then pushing the earth backward, and the snake forward.

Snakes can see movement well. But, they're after camouflaged prey. Evidently, nature has "found" that the most efficient sense is smell - and bizarre adaptations have capitalized. Snakes 'have modified' their tongues - useless for eating, anyway, as we'll soon see - into long, forked organs. These can be flipped far into the environment, and act like flypaper, catching microscopic odour particles from the air, or picking it off vegetation. Each time the tongue is flicked out, it is immediately withdrawn and pushed into the Jacobsen's organ - a complex odour analyzer in the mouth's roof. Frogs, mice, toads, worms and many insects each have their own, faint but distinct, odour.

Once close enough to recognize prey by movement or form, the snake puts on a burst of speed, or slowly poses to strike. A snake can lunge about 1/3 of its length, grabbing prey in its mouth. Eight rows of tiny, needle-like teeth point backward toward the throat - one row on each jaw, and two top and bottom, mounted in flaps which normally lay flat. Holding the prey firmly with these teeth, the snake first opens and advances one side of the mouth, then the other, walking its way over the prey. To accommodate the huge size of frogs or mice - they might be larger than the snake's diameter - the lower jaw disconnects from the skull and hinges at the middle. The whole structure, held together by ligaments, literally deforms to accommodate the prey, then rearranges itself.

Depending upon the size of the prey, digestion may take a couple of weeks or more, and is accommodated by the design of special intestines and the one long lung. During this time, the snake lazily rests and wanders, slowly building the fat reserves that will carry it through winter hibernation.

Ontario's 14 snakes include many specialists, some of which feed on mice (milk and fox snakes), freshly moulted crayfish (queen), toads (hognosed) worms and slugs (red-bellied) or insects (smooth green). One (northern water) feeds heavily on carrion, and can be called nature's garbage-man. But the garter snake - a real opportunist - eats a wide array of insects and small animal pests. It is, as a result, our most common - and beneficial - snake.

Rather than running in panic, have a curious look at the next snake you see - if it doesn't scoot in even greater panic the other way. You'll see a marvellously interesting - and highly beneficial - animal.

Pair charged following rash of incidents

Two Ottawa area youths have been charged with a series of offences following a number of incidents last week in Monmouth township.

The string of incidents began Wednesday morning at 8:40 when police received a report that two motorcycles had been stolen from the Wilberforce area. While the police were investigating this incident, it was reported that the village's Legion Hall had been broken into and approximately $500 in merchandise and cash removed from the premises.

The officers sent to investigate the incident, followed a trail that led from the Legion to two cottages and two sheds which had been broken into. An investigation revealed that a considerable quantity of liquor and other property had been taken.

As the investigation continued, officers received word that a new pedal boat had been stolen from a nearby cottage.

The Minden detachment marine unit was called in to assist and two individuals were collared by the police and placed under arrest.

According to police, most of the items removed from the legion, the motorcycles and the pedal boat have been recovered.

Charged in the series of incidents were 18 year old

Kirk Jennrich and Jeffrey Chard.

The investigating officer was Constable Al. Bibby.

Driver charged

A charge of careless driving has been laid against Jeffery Lang, 22, of London, following an accident July 20 at 1 a.m. on County Road 14 near Haliburton Lake.

According to police, the man was descending a hill when his vehicle failed to negotiate a curve at the bottom of the incline. The car swerved sideways and entered the ditch where it rolled over and struck a tree. Damage to the 1985 Chevrolet was estimated at $9000.

Lang and his two passengers were taken to Haliburton Hospital where they were treated for undetermined injuries. The passengers included 22 year old Ronald Proulx and 25 year old Michael Burgie, both of Orillia.

Constable Joe Dorricott investigated the incident.

Roll over

A two car accident July 16 has resulted in charges being laid against a Toronto man.

According to police, Lillian Gorgeatt, 45, of Stanhope Township was southbound on Highway 35 at Carnarvon. As she passed the intersection with Highway 118 her vehicle was struck in the rear by an eastbound vehicle being driven by Alfred Arnold, 36, of Toronto.

The impact caused the Gorgeatt car to swerve off the roadway and into the ditch where it rolled over. She was slightly injured in the mishap.

Arnold has been charged with failing to yield the right of way.

The investigating officer was Constable Mike Maybee.

Driver charged

A collision between a vehicle and a Dysart et al road grader has led to a charge of careless driving being laid against Bernie Nicholls of West Guilford.

According to the police, the 24 year old Nicholls was travelling west on Highway 118 near the Camp Towhee road turn.

The grader, driven by 58 year old Delbert Cowen of West Guilford, was travelling in the same direction. As Nicholls approached the grader, he noticed the left flasher was operating. According to the police, the man said he felt it was a signal from the grader operator to pass the machine. However, as he pulled out, the grader began a left hand turn on to a sideroad, resulting in the collision.

The mishap occurred at 3:45 p.m. July 17.

The collision resulted in $3000 damage to the vehicle driven by Nicholls and $300 damage to the grader.

A passenger in the Nicholls' car, Erin Nicholls, suffered minor injuries in the mishap.

The investigating officer was Constable Brian Ladurantaye.

Campaign reaches objective

The Victoria - Haliburton Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society has exceeded its 1985 fund raising target. Dennis Sweeting, Chairman of the Campaign, announced today that the amount deposited as at June 30 was in excess of sixty three thousand dollars over 1984. There are monies still to come in. It is expected that the total will exceed sixty five thousand dollars.

Art Rendell, President of the Victoria - Haliburton Unit gave credit to the Captains and the Canvassers, who worked throughout April and into May to ensure the success of the campaign. He pointed out that, although the funds go directly to the Ontario Cancer Society, the Victoria - Haliburton Unit draws from it throughout the year to provide all the necessary services to cancer victims and their families in our own area. "We draw at least as much as we collect," said Mr. Rendell, "It's very gratifying to know that this part of Canada can look after its own."

This year, Mike Cosgrove, Marilyn De Bois and Marie Disney joined Dennis Sweeting as committee members to organize the fund raising. Sweeting pointed out that there was considerable pressure this year, mainly because of the one time campaign for Cat Scan. This equipment will be of inestimable value to the whole area, and the campaign has received a tremendous response. However, despite this, Sweeting pointed out that the Peterborough Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society has also exceeded its 1985 target, and its area is bearing the greatest share of the Cat Scan drive. "We're a pretty wonderful bunch of people in these Kawarthas," the Campaign Chairman concluded.

New show opens at A.J. Gallery

a portrait of your face unless I can see it."

Referring to the subdued painting of his father fishing on a lake in northern Ontario, Robert explained, "About this time last year I rode a bicycle from Sudbury to Minden and took hundreds of pictures along the way. I used some of those photographs in this painting, rearranging things to get the right balance."

Robert lives in Willowdale but has made the Minden area his second home for the past 16 years. While he uses the landscape of the Highlands as a backdrop in some of his paintings, his friends are the focus. "I have a lot of active friends who I get to paint," he said. Referring to two of the paintings, Car Trouble and John Brown's Snowmobile, Robert noted that the people and situations depicted in the paintings, "are as much a part of life in Haliburton as rocks and trees."

(Such is the artist's skill that many visitors to the gallery will have no difficulty recognizing the subjects.)

To produce the hauntingly realistic scenes, requires a great deal of time and dedicated, single-minded work. He prefers to work on many paintings at the same time rather than completing each one before beginning another. Robert has included a number of unfinished paintings in the exhibition and notes, "I have all kinds of paintings at home that I am still working on. Wait until this time next year when they are done."

For anyone who appreciates excellence in art, there is no need to wait.

The current exhibition of Robert's paintings is a powerful and compelling example of a major artistic talent that is destined for greater recognition.

Make a point of visiting the gallery. You will find the exhibit an interesting journey that has only begun.

Perfect conditions for sailboard race

Weather conditions were close to ideal Sunday afternoon for a sailboard regatta on Lake Kashagawigamog.

The event, organized by Windsurfinn in Haliburton drew an enthusiastic crew of sailors who were greeted by a steady westerly breeze and warm, sunny conditions. The race was held at Kenmar Lodge.

This is the first board sailing regatta on the lake, according to organizer Erin Finn. She was pleased with the turnout and the enthusiasm of the participants.

Taking first place in the three heat event was Mike Irwin of Haliburton. Second place went to Eric Allen of Toronto while Jerry Denike and Robin McMullen, both seasonal residents on the lake, tied for their place. Marilyn Hagerman was the lone female participant in the race.

Participants in Sunday's sailboard regatta skim across the surface of the Lake Kashagawigamog. The event drew an enthusiastic group of sailors.

Golfers enjoy fifth tournament

Joyce Bradbury and Phil Dickson led the field in the fifth annual M.R. Airlines golf tournament held last week at the Beaverbrook Golf Course in Minden. The two captured top low gross scores to take honours.

Leading the way in the Caloway scoring system was Gloria Lemieux of Minden. She scored a 68 net to claim the honour. Second under the scoring system was Gil Scott, a seasonal resident from Moore Lake, with a 68.5. In third spot was Gwen Paterson with a 69.

Lynda Pawluch of Minden claimed the women's prize for the longest drive while the men's prize went to Tom Barrett.

Theresa Finn was awarded the most honest golfer of the day award.

Wilf Jarvis of Minden came up with the fewest putts of the two day event with 28. The closest to the pin award went to Tom Hurta who came within 15 3/4 inches of the designated hole.

Those interested in taking part in next year's tournament are reminded that the event will be held July 16 and 17. Similar to this year, a welcoming party for participants will be held Tuesday evening at the Beaverbrook clubhouse.

CHACE will survey families

A survey of the needs of Minden area families will be undertaken this Friday by representatives of CHACE Place. The survey is being conducted in conjunction with plans by the organization to open a centre in Minden later this year.

According to CHACE Place spokesman Rosie

Kenney, the street survey will be carried out to determine what kinds of daycare services residents in the Minden area require most. She noted that organization members will be on the streets during the day polling individuals.

The representative will also have a supply of pamphlets outlining the purpose and background of the organization.

Minden and area residents wishing to learn more about the operation of CHACE Place are invited to call the Haliburton facility at 457-2989.

Ladies playoffs begin

The last week of regular play got started in Haliburton, Monday night with the Junior team winning a close one with Gooderham by a score of 7 to 6. This game came down to a tie in the bottom of the seventh inning and with 2 out Marla McNaul hit in the winning run.

The Minden Juniors won a 4 point game from Haliburton Seniors on Monday night also. Cheryl Dillon pitched strongly for Minden and Werna Blakey had a busy night on second base. Minden Dixie Lee defeated Wilberforce with strong playing from Corrie Zorjen and Lori Brown.

The next night the Minden Juniors fought a strong contest and bettered the Minden Seniors by a score of 12 to 10. Cheryl Dillon had another great night on the mound for the Juniors while Barb Winn blasted out a home run for the Senior team. In Gooderham the home team came out on top over Wilberforce. The two Haliburton teams made up for some of their rained out games and played a 4 pointer out in West Guilford country. The Haliburton Juniors came out on top with help from a grand slam homer by Pam Iles.

The final night of regular play saw the Haliburton Seniors win over Wilberforce and the Haliburton Juniors defeat the Minden Dixie Lee team. Michelle Harrison had a good night at the plate for the Juniors.

Standings at the end of regular season play are: Haliburton Juniors 38, Minden Seniors 26, Haliburton Seniors 20, Minden Juniors 17, Gooderham 12 and Wilberforce 7. (Congratulations to the Haliburton Juniors - 1 loss for the season).

Playoffs began Monday (July 22) night. The two Minden teams will be holding forth on the Minden diamond while the two Hali-burton teams will be battling it out in Haliburton. This two out of three series will continue Tuesday night and if necessary will finish up the next Monday with the Haliburton teams playing a late game in Minden. Gooderham and Wilberforce will play down in a best 3 out of 5 series.

The annual tournament held this year in Minden was a great success. Fantastic weather prevailed and with 12 teams entered there was lots of great ball. The championship game on Sunday afternoon between Sunderland and Orilla saw the Orilla girls come away the victors by a score of 17 to 9. There were 4 local teams entered - two from Minden and two from Haliburton. In the consolation final the Haliburton Junior team came away the victors defeating the Haliburton Senior team 10 to 9. Marg Smith was on the mound for the Juniors and Joan McKay pitched for the Senior team.

A big thank you to all the people who gave of their time to make this weekend go smoothly.

An Orilla Flames hitter shows an example of the determination that led to her team's extra-inning victory in the championship game of the Haliburton County Ladies Baseball tournament on the weekend.

Hustlers lead playoffs

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers slammed Lindsay York Tavern by the score of 9-4 to win their first game in the round robin playoffs.

Led by Greg Newell (homer and 2 singles), the Hustler bats came alive as they pounded out 15 hits en route to the win in Lindsay on Monday night.

Barry Hammond and Colin Newell hit triples, Brian Shaw (3 singles) and Dave Hartwick (double-single) were the other big guns with the bats. Jack Snell was on the mound for the locals picking up his tenth win of the year against no losses.

The next game of the series will be this Wednesday night in Minden against Lindsay Kent Tavern. The third game for the Hustlers will be back in Lindsay next Monday night against Kent Tavern then they play the final game of the round robin in Minden next Wednesday, July 31 against York Tavern. All games are at 8:00 p.m.

The top two teams in the round robin will play a best of three of five series for the Tri-county championship.

Let's get out to the park Wednesday night and give the boys a boost.

A spin on the Tilt-a-whirl produced mixed reactions from these visitors to the Country Good Times in Wilberforce on the weekend. The midway rides, amateur contest, baseball tournament and colourful parade attracted record crowds to the community for the annual celebration.

County town museum

Have you visited your County Town Museum lately? It has on display a replica of an early rural schoolroom. You will see original students' desks, as well as the teacher's desk. Also on display is a collection of old text books, which span a fifty year period in our education.

Fathers and Mothers, many of these books will be familiar to you. The junior members of the family will be thankful their books are far more interesting now. There is no more a water pail placed on a stool with a dipper beside it. You will see the old box stove where those who sat beside it roasted, while the students on the far side of the room had to wear their sweaters and sometimes their coats. So much for the "Good old days". Visit the museum before the end of July and enjoy a trip down "Memory Lane".

At the museum meeting held last week discussions were held regarding the installation of the millstones. Plans were made for the August displays. It is hoped a pioneer church will be shown. We are always open for suggestions. Do you have any early church articles you would like to loan for the month of August?

Bern and Doreen Berry were visitors at the meeting and presented a cheque to the museum for one hundred dollars from the Minden Lake Ratepayers Association. The committee greatly appreciates these donations.

A trip to the Huntsville Pioneer Village is planned for this week.

Mohawks play at Fenelon Falls

The Minden Pee Wee Mohawk Soccer Team played away at Fenelon Falls on July 17.

The only goal of the first half came after 30 minutes when Dereck Allison, after dribbling past several opponents, scored with a low shot to give Minden the lead.

Ten minutes into the second half, Fenelon Falls equalized when Derrick Moore in the Minden net was only able to parry a shot and a Fenelon player tapped the ball into the net.

Five minutes later Dereck Allison restored the Minden lead on a breakaway and the same player was unfortunate shortly after when his shot hit the crossbar.

Minden had an opportunity to move further ahead when they were awarded a penalty kick but the Minden player shot directly at the Fenelon keeper.

Dean Sisson and Chris Holliday-Rhodes playing midfield along with Aaron Hie and Mark Klages on the defence turned in sound performances for Minden.

Guild news

The Faculty Show and Art Auction continues until the end of the month. We will continue to take reserved bids on auction pieces until the "Gala Art Auction" on July 29 at 7:30 p.m., held right in the Gallery.

The Gallery hosts a wine and cheese for the Guild's summer students every Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. This event offers the students a chance to meet with their instructors, as well as view their works. Admission is $3.00.

The Summer Exhibition and Sale ended on Saturday. Once again we had an excellent turnout with sales equal to last year's exhibition.

On Friday morning, the gallery, together with the municipality, hosted a bicycle rodeo. Despite the threatening weather, many kids turned out with their bikes decorated colourfully. An obstacle course race was held in the park and prizes were given to the three fastest riders. Prizes were also given for the best decorated bikes. Our next event will be on August 9. So, get in shape kids, for our Junior Olympics.

Water level report

A heavy rain, up to 60 mm in some areas, came to the Kawartha section of the Trent Watershed on Monday, July 15. This gave these lakes a considerable boost in levels and allowed for reduction of the reservoir flow to near minimum on Tuesday. Much less rain fell in the Haliburton Highlands so the cutback would be welcome.

The surplus gained from this rain is still held on the Kawarthas and only was beginning to diminish by Friday, July 19. It should last at least one more week even with little or no further rain.

The Haliburton Lakes averaged 85.0% on July 15, a drop of 4.3% from the preceding week due to the heavier draw of water needed before the rain came. This left these lakes about 3% above the 10 year average for this date.

Clerk of the Corporation of the Township of Stanhope, R.R. 1,
Haliburton, Ontario KOM 1S0.

St. Paul's history dates back to 1864

In St. Paul's Anglican Church, Minden there is a plaque which reads:

In Loving Memory of

Rev. Frederick Burt

The Founder of this Parish Church

St. Paul's, Minden 1864

and continued his labours 14 years with zeal and success for Christ.

He died Aged 77 years at Hamilton 1904.

This plaque bears an established date! Those who were responsible for the plaque were certain of that date. The Church is People. It isn't necessary to have a building (that is a Church Building as we are accustomed to today) in order to worship. Therefore, in very early days with no Church Building, those pioneers would no doubt assemble in school houses, or in the homesteads where Rev. Burt would come to hold service and worship with these people.

This was the challenge for Rev. Burt who came to this area where no church existed and perhaps no home for him to dwell in - he came to the people! Life in those days was not easy. Wood for fuel, water to carry into the homes, oil or candles for light, grain to grind into flour, travel by foot, horseback or by canoe. What perseverance!

It didn't seem important to keep records in those days and so stories were handed down from one generation to the next.

It is believed that the Church building (which stands today) was started in 1866 and it could have taken several years to complete. We must remember that in those times that timber had to be hewn out of the logs cut from the local woods, then dried for a time before ready for use. Tools were far from what we have today and much had to be done by hand. Those pioneers would probably just build as they could afford to.

In those very early days too, entire families would gather together, perhaps a month before Christmas to make garlands, wreaths, etc. out of evergreen boughs with which to decorate the Church.

Wagons would come at Thanksgiving from nearby farms with vegetables, grains and fruits which would be used to decorate the Church for Harvest Services.

Picnics and Christmas parties were social activities that were so much enjoyed.

There were many successors to Rev. Burt during a few years. These men had to be of a strong and challenging nature to stand up to these trying and difficult times. Those of a weak nature would likely be unable to endure the hardships and their stay would be a short one.

As time went on services were conducted in the outlying areas known as the Scotch Line, Hindon Hill, Gelert, Irondale, Boshkung, Maple Lake and West Guilford (most services would be held in the school houses).

In the year 1900, on October 12, St. Paul's Church was dedicated to the Glory of God.

The early Church had coal-oil lamps for lights, later on a type of forced gas lights was installed and used until hydro became available.

In the earthen dug-out under the Church was a furnace which burned wood. For years the men of the Congregation would hold "wood bees". A few days work in a local bush, sufficient logs would be cut, hand sawed into blocks, split by axe and drawn by horse and sleigh to the Church to be piled and dried for the next winter's fuel supply.

Behind the Church where the hedge now stands was a long drive shed, where parishioners could put their horses in for rest and feed while they attended Church.

For many years Sunday School was held in the Church with two or three junior classes and a Bible Class and this continued until 1949 when the Parish Hall was built, adjoining the Church.

For 46 years J. H. Delamere was Superintendent of the Sunday School and Walter Welch was S.S. Superintendent for 25 years.

There have been several organs in the Church, the old pump organ, an old pipe organ and there have been a couple of electric organs in recent years. We have had some very dedicated organists throughout the years, with varying choirs.

Down through the years the women have cleaned the Church and prepared for services with great dedication.

For many years there was both morning and evening services.

When the Parish Hall was built adjoining the Church the new entrance was built and the former Church entrance was turned into a Baptistry.

Rev. Fredrick Burt, founder of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Minden, 1864.

The Church has several beautiful stained glass windows, the earliest dates 1901.

Several plaques and memorials bear the names of pioneers who worshipped and worked here.

Many ministers have, in succession, brought Christ's message to the various families over the years in this congregation giving help in times of sickness, trouble, anxiety and sorrow, extending warmth, friendship, and welcome, sharing in times of joy, celebrations and social functions.

Although there have been countless changes over the years each Minister has shared in the History of the Anglican Church in Minden, each in his own time, each in his own way - but with the same message, "God Is Love", "God Loves You", "God wants your love and He needs you."

Fr. George Elliott is our present priest and is always ready to welcome you, ready to help you and ready to serve you. He along with his wife Linda and daughter Elizabeth live in the Rectory next door.

We appreciate all they do for St. Paul's and for our community and we are happy and proud that they are with us to celebrate this very special year in Minden.

Brazilian ramblings

Greg Pearson is a Minden high school student who has spent a year in Brazil as part of the Rotary International youth exchange program. Greg, who is expected to return home this week, offers our readers this interesting glimpse of his experiences in South America. This concludes a two part report from Greg on his Brazilian adventures.

As we flew into Brasilia at 9:20 p.m., I noticed that the main part of the city lights formed into the shape of an airplane, with two large arching wings split by a long thin body. Brasilia, the capital of Brazil, is perhaps the most modern city in the world. The entire city is in sections with hotels in one part, restaurants in another, government buildings here, sports facilities there. The zoning is very advanced. Most of the people live in "Superquadros" which in fact are mini-cities. Each "Superquadro" has numerous apartment buildings, a bank, movie theatre, shopping centre, park, playground and a school. People live in the "Superquadro" closest to their work. Brasilia has no downtown, just small mini-cities which make up one large city.

While in Brasilia we visited the national pavillion, congress palace, which had a miniature lake at the base and the president's residence, with 4 live ostriches wandering around in the front yard.

For the Canadians on the trip, a highlight took place in Brasilia. All the Canadians were invited to the home of Mr. Antony Eyton for dinner. Mr. Eyton happens to be Canada's ambassador to Brazil. We had a very nice dinner and ice cream covered in Canadian maple syrup for dessert! It was quite interesting to listen to what an ambassador's life entails. It was an honour to attend and it felt so good to be back on Canadian soil, even if it was only for a few hours!

We then flew south to Florianopolis for an overnight stay. The temperature was cooler at about 27 degrees C.

Florianopolis is the capital of Santa Catarina state. We visited a chocolate factory, a beach and a look-out where the entire city was visible.

Our last stop was Porto Alegre, the capital of Rio Grande Do Sul. It was 5 degrees C in Porto Alegre! I quickly packed away my Bermuda shorts and out came the long underwear!

The south of Brazil has a distinct German background. The tree covered mountains are dotted with European looking chalets, and in the city, blonde blue-eyed people are walking in the streets. It was almost like being in another country.

While in Porto Alegre we travelled 40 km outside of the city to the town of Gramado where we visited a winery and more chocolate factories (with samples!) We then walked around Gramado going into the many shops selling wool sweaters and leather products. I might mention that one frigid morning, while eating breakfast on the 15th floor of our hotel, I looked out at the drizzling rain and I'm sure I saw a snowflake fluttering down. Maybe it was just wishful thinking!

After a three day stay, we flew back to Sao Paulo where the trip was over.

After seeing all of Brazil, I must comment on what a beautiful country it is, and how time and time again I've seen that it is also a land of contrasts.

The people, customs, culture, cities, and terrain are different in each region I visited.

In the northeast region, I saw beautiful beaches, clear blue water where street vendors sell fresh picked coconuts, pineapple and bananas. Tropical sounds float through the cities as there is always Negro Bianos singing and dancing Samba.

In the Amazon region, exotic vegetation and natural wonders are found in the forest and along the banks of the mighty Amazon. The Xingu Indians perform Voodoo and other strange customs, while dancing around mud thatched huts wearing hand made costumes.

Then, in the centre of Brazil, I saw perhaps the most modern city in the world. Brasilia, a city planned and organized so everything has a logical reason and purpose. The "Superquadros" look and sound like something out of a Steven Spielberg movie, while all other Brazilian cities are disorganized and full of confusion.

The southern region, while in a "tropical country", I stepped out into a beautiful, cloudless sunny day, that was 5 degrees C! No longer are there shirtless Negros and Indians racing around, but tall, blonde, blue-eyed Brazilians in heavy wool sweaters.

Finally, Sao Paulo, where all the different people of Brazil come to live. A mix of everything found in Brazil is in Sao Paulo: The centre of contrast.

Brazil is a beautiful country, with each part being unique, different and therefore interesting.

Here in Sao Paulo, as the temperature starts to drop and winter starts to set in, I feel it's getting time to flee north to Canada, and warmer weather.

Living and travelling in Brazil, I have learned a great deal about the country and also about Canada. I have enjoyed writing for the paper and I hope you have learned something about Brazil as well. I would like to thank the Rotary Club of Minden for sending me, and my parents for making the trip possible.

As for the rest of my stay, I plan to travel as much as I can, depending on what opportunities present themselves.

See you soon,

Greg

Did you know...that your County Information Centre has an Index to Federal Programs and Services?

This reference book includes information on 128 federal departments, agencies and Crown corporations, describing each and offering addresses and telephone numbers of offices serving the public throughout Canada.

Telephone information on federal government programs and services is available by dialling 1-800-461-1664. The client service officers answer general questions, but refer more complex inquiries to the appropriate authority in government.

For further information regarding this book, why not drop in to our centre or give us a call at 457-2733. We are open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays, and are located in the Drag River Municipal Building (across from Emmerson Lumber) in Haliburton.

News from Branch 129

by Gerald Irish

Two exciting trips are planned for Legion members and guests. On August 17, we have chartered a coach to go to the Warrior's Day Parade at the C.N.E. The cost is only $11.00 per person return. The bus will leave from the Legion that morning at 6:15. Applications for free admission tickets are available at the Legion.

The second planned trip is to Nashville, Tennessee, to the Grand Ole Opry on Thanksgiving weekend. We are now taking bookings for this trip. Pick up your application form and information sheet at the Legion. The price for this trip is right! $236.00 per person - two to a room - and includes everything except your food and refreshments. Book as soon as possible. Both trips are filling up rapidly.

Legion sponsored Cadets will finally be a reality in Haliburton. Your President has been in contact with the Army Cadet League in Toronto and they have agreed to send representatives to our area to speak with interested parents and teens. This information meeting will be held in the Legion auditorium on September 12 at 7:30 p.m. Watch for further announcements regarding this meeting and Cadets.

Last Saturday night, a tremendous crowd was treated to the inimitable piano stylings of Ray Jenkins. It was good to see Ray back at the Legion and the crowd enjoyed the dancing and singalongs, for which Ray is so well known.

Hope to see you at the Legion Carnival.

Jim and Helen Burton spent a most enjoyable weekend in Napanee visiting with Staff Sergeant Earle Bush and Shirley. Much time went by reminiscing over the years 1958-65 when Earle was in the OPP detachment here. They asked to be remembered to all their friends in Minden.

Blanche and Jack Odell of Hall's Lake became great grandparents for the fourth time on Tuesday July 16, when twin great-grandsons were born to the Odell's grandson and his wife in Burlington.

The annual Red Cross Bazaar will be held in the Minden Main Street parkette on Saturday, August 3 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. You will find an excellent variety of handcrafted items - shop early for Christmas!

On Friday evening, Club 35 members and guests enjoyed a well-attended potluck dinner consisting of typical sumptuous Stanhope fare, followed by an evening of euchre. The winners for the evening were - door prize, Velda Harrison, most lone hands (on a cut) Ralph Schad, high lady, Mabel Trodd and high man, Jack Gregory. Others - Verna Hodgson, Murray Daniels and Jake Sevinck.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Gilbank at Hyland Crest were her great-granddaughter Cindy Kibjes and her two children Jeremy and Jessica from Creemore.

The Horticultural Society is presenting the annual flower show on August 8 and 9 at the Minden Community Centre. The theme this year is "Bouquet to Youth."

Miss Misti Campbell has returned home after spending a delightful holiday in Newfoundland where she visited many relatives and had a special visit with her great-grandmother Mrs. Coles.

Eva McDougall of Edinburgh is visiting this month with Freda and Jack Stacey.

This week's winners at the card party in the Common Room for the museum were - lone hands, Ida Holmes. Others - Lil Porter, Florence Schlosser, Jack Weeks, Bob Mitchell. We are asked to point out that everyone is welcome to join the gang at the Library/Cultural Centre at 1:30 every Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cooper of Guelph were visiting in the area recently and called in on the Fred Coopers last Tuesday.

Mrs. Bill Moore and the Earl Bird family went to the Clayton family reunion on the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Mahar and son Scott of Ottawa recently visited relatives in Minden. Mrs. Mahar is the former Carol-Anne Westran.

Visitors with Cliff and Jean Lacey on the weekend were Stan, May and Debbie Hill of Willowdale. They all attended the wedding of Jennifer and Keith Malone of Kirkfield.

Mrs. Mary Currah, accompanied by Charlie Welch attended the wedding of Larry's son Jackie Alvin and Charlotte. The reception was held at their new home.

Club 35 regular Monday night card party winners for this week - most lone hands, Olive Daniel, high lady - Verna Sawyer, high man - Minnie Dawson and the door prize went to Lois Darroch. Other winners were Margaret Fletcher, Myrna McCarthy and Verna Hodgson.

Congratulations to Greg Carpenter and Debbie Ingram who were married last Saturday in Minden United Church.

Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of the late Patricia Rupp.

The following poem was submitted by Yvonne Guida on her return from a most enjoyable trip to the Maritimes recently.

Unfortunately we do not have space to run the entire epistle this week - the remainder will appear in next week's edition.

Diary of our Maritime Trip

There must have been an albatross
A settin' on our bus
For many days and many nights
It surely rained on us!
The fog rolled all around us
As soft as it could be
The scenery was beautiful
But this we could not see.
Look there, there is a mountaintop
Afloating' in the mist
And there a tree-top showing
That swirling vapours missed.
And we just passed a little boat
Aridin' on the tide
With clumps of tidy cottages
All settin' side by side.
But lo, the clouds have lifted
And scenes come into view
Perhaps our bird has flown away
I surely hope, don't you?
But as I write this little song
The fog is in the glen
And then we see the raindrops fall -
Our bird is back again!
We sallied through Vermont and Maine
It rained to beat the band
But we snuck out before it poured
With ice cream cones in hand.
Oh it thundered and it roared
And the cumulus clouds soared
It wasn't very pretty, I can tell you,
Down by the jetty
A young lady name of Betty
Was astrummin' her guitar
When the lightning flashed and struck her
And it knocked the music out her
For her instrument was lyin' on the floor!
The flames they came and licked her
But the lady's luck was with her
And her arm will be as good as was before.
The guide showed us St. Johns N.B.,
And heads began to nod
For all we saw was just pea soup
And we had no grog!
But everyone seems happy
Although we cannot see
We're on the road to Nowhere
Where Louisburg should be.
We cross the Bay of Fundy
On a bright and sunny day
The only problem that we found
The fog got in the way.
Today the sky is turning blue
Of course we've had our rainfall too
We may have lost the little cuss
That's been afollerin' our bus
We pass along the Cabot trail
With precipices high
Some people on the bus are scared
They think they're going to die!
I have a friend along with me
Her name you know it well,
She keeps the group in stitches
With the tales she has to tell.
We visited famed Peggy's cove
A place of great renown
The little spot is picturesque
Forty-eight souls live in town.
Cape Breton is a bonny place
With many sights to view
It's too bad the sun won't shine
I know you wish it too.

Dear Readers:

We had a good celebration right here at our back door and as the day progresses we will try to tell you more. It all started with a dinner barbeque, we had plenty to eat. Then Russell Robertson and daughters Doris and Linda played the pipes and Harvey McIntosh and Gordon Ruttle played the drums. When they really got tuned in they made everything hum. No matter how many tunes they played, we always clapped for more, so we had a grand celebration right here at our back door. Dale English to make the job complete, held the other waiters make sure we had enough to eat.

Our sympathy to family and relatives we would like to convey for Albert Carr who just passed away.

We have a new helper in the kitchen and dining room too, she is a good looker now I'm telling you. Her name is Sydney Gregory and she comes from Maple Lake and we are sure she has what it takes.

We were all saddened here when we learned of the passing of Sidney Stamp who was a grand-nephew of Annie Cox, who is a resident here. Our deepest sympathy goes to his sorrowing wife and family and all that he held dear.

It was good to have Bill Moore's daughter and her husband come on her father to call, we don't know Bill's family at all.

A good service in the chapel Sunday night although Rev. Burgess wasn't there, he is undergoing surgery and is in doctor's care. We were glad to have Rev and Mrs. Brubacher there, it was good to have Amos there, he helped out by leading us in prayer.

Monday afternoon the ladies in the craft room worked doing this and that, to those busy ladies we take off our hats.

Best wishes to Wilbert Sisson we would like to say, he had a birthday this fourteenth of July day.

Linda showed us interesting movies Monday night for all who came to see, "Alberta Bound" and "The Bakery."

Tuesday morning Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church conducted a very interesting service in the chapel this July day, we thank him for coming and also Jean Cox who the music did play.

Tuesday afternoon we were shown a two hour movie which was simply grand, activities of different lands.

Barbara Carpenter, who works here by the way, her son Gregory and Debbie Ingram, his bride to be, got married this Saturday. Congratulations and best wishes we would like to say.

Tuesday night, Murray and Shirley Davis came all by themselves, why the rest of the group didn't come we are not sure, but they were helped out by William Moore who is a good piano player and can play some good old tunes, among the three of them, their music filled the rooms.

Wednesday afternoon the Coboconk Happy Wanderers came wandering in to Hyland Crest. They stayed and entertained us royally and were our special guests. The way they entertained us was really fine, thank you for coming, please come back again sometime.

Edith Welch's son Ron and his wife Pat came to visit his mother and stayed with her to dine along with Aunt Caroline.

The ladies from St. Patrick's church in Kinmount came over Thursday afternoon and brought and served a lovely lunch, to thank them for coming Doris and I played them some lively tunes.

As our bingo callers who come to Hyland Crest are on holidays, we had bingo right here Thursday night. The bingo callers were Chantelle McKnight, Sheldon Stevenson and Erin McKnight. They did a real good job. Some of the players had good luck, some of them just broke even.

Skunks avoid danger by using their common scents!
